Mr. Johnson gave a broad and comprehensive survey of the organised work in Great Britain, included under two main divisions, Denominational and Interdenominational. The latter naturally bulked the larger, and centred in the work of the Sunday School Union, the account of whose operations surprised many by their extent and efficiency. Mrs. Bryner showed us the completeness of the organisation in the States, which touches everyone, from the cradle to the grave, and just now is developing rapidly the field-workers and the teacher-training schemes, operating through institutes, summer schools, and theological seminaries. The Rev. Richard Burges of India gave a clear and interesting account of the Origin, Objects, Officers, Organ, and Operations of the India Sunday School Union, and won our consent when he claimed a first place in our sympathies and prayers for India...
