

Deer Hunting from a Recliner: A Collection of Essays Reflecting on Rural Life in Northeast Wisconsin.

By Kathy Campshure

Createspace, United States, 2011. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Living in northeast Wisconsin, inspiration abounds. It can be found in building a field-stone walk, dodging February potholes, or even in spotting a recliner that has been abandoned in the middle of a hayfield. This collection of essays originally appeared as weekly articles in the Oconto County Reporter (a small newspaper published in the author s hometown). The collection offers a unique point of view on the daily details that shape our lives. From gardening, to chores and family farms-from growing older, to raising children, and dealing with the changing times-the author shares her personal experiences on various topics, all while embracing life from a positive (albeit slightly unusual) point of view. Visit the county fair and ride the Tilt-a-Whirl with the author and her son; learn where all of the cabooses have gone, and discover what brown paper sacks and rainy days have in common; dare to consider life s ultimate question- Can pumpkin pies get car sick? From parenting, to doing dishes, to commuting to work-the enclosed stories will make you smile and inspire you as...

READ ONLINE
[4.08 MB]

Reviews

An incredibly amazing ebook with perfect and lucid answers. It is written in basic terms and never difficult to understand. Its been written in an exceptionally basic way and it is only right after i finished reading this ebook in which in fact modified me, affect the way i really believe.

-- Beverly Hoppe

Extremely helpful for all class of individuals. Better then never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. I realized this publication from my i and dad suggested this ebook to discover.

-- Adela Schroeder II